greetings

July was HOT all over, but I took some time to chill out after being on the road for a few months. It felt great to settle into my apartment and reconnect with family and friends, old and new!

After a little break, I'm excited to dive back into work! I'm kicking off a month long conversation about mentoring on August 1st, answering all your questions about how working with a mentor can accelerate your growth! You can join on Linked In and FB. (info at the end of this newsletter.) I hope to see you there! If you're considering a mentor for yourself, let's talk about it!

more about mentoring...

Achieving goals and learning new skills doesn't happen without intent. As a mentor, I am your Number One Superfan, expertly guiding you in the right direction.

Hiring a mentor is like having a trusted guide who illuminates the path to success, helping you navigate challenges and accelerate your personal and professional growth.

I will work with you on your personal goals, I will work with you on professional development, I will help you find the balance you are currently looking for.
